

It is completely unacceptable that the Sinclair group uses the public airwaves (network tv) to show an hour long "smear ad" by a group (Swift boat veterans for 'truth') whose claims have been discredited weeks ago. They are disguising this smear ad as a "documentary"! What a load of hooey! Amy Goodman had the VP of Sinclair (Mark something or other) on Democracy Now, and she point blank asked him "Does the Sinclair group stand to gain from Bush's re-election, since bush clearly supports complete deregulation of the airwaves"--he refused to answer! The Sinclair group supports Bush, but they must pay for a campaign ad like anyone else. Nepotism!
